

Where telemedicine is headed now that the PHE has ended

Tuesday, May 30, 2023

Christopher Raphaely engaged in a Q&A with Healthcare IT News on the anticipated developments involving health care and health care IT following the conclusion of the COVID-19 public health emergency. Chris also discussed the future of telehealth, and what CIOs and other health IT leaders should be doing to address new telemedicine challenges.

To read more of this article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Health Care & Life Sciences