

What Is No-Fault Divorce And Why Is It Under Scrutiny?

Monday, November 20, 2023

Jennifer Brandt was quoted in a Fatherly article discussing at-fault divorces, which required spouses to prove blame or fault before initiating a divorce. “You had to say the other person did something that made you want to get out of the marriage,” said Jennifer. “From the jump, divorces were contentious because you were accusing somebody of something.”

To read the full article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Family Law