Alex is an associate in the firm's Private Client Services practice, representing individuals and families in planning for the future.

After earning his B.A., magna cum laude, from Penn State University, Alex worked for several years as an investment analyst with a global investment management company in Malvern, Pennsylvania, where he collaborated with high-net-worth clients to execute investment strategies to manage their wealth.

He went on to earn his J.D., cum laude, from the University of Michigan Law School, where he was a senior editor of the Michigan Technology Law Review. As a Geneva International Fellow, he had the opportunity to work as an International Investment Law and Policy Analyst with the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development in Geneva, Switzerland, during the Spring of his 2L year. Alex also served as a summer law clerk for the U.S. Attorney's Office in Honolulu, Hawaii, as a legal intern with the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General's Bureau of Consumer Protection, and as a summer associate with another Am Law 100 firm.
