Anthony J. Morrone and Mark E. Utke have been invited to attend the International Association of Arson Investigators (IAAI) International Training Conference, and serve as judges for the “Expert Witness Courtroom Testimony” course.

The course walks participants through what it’s like to prepare for and testify as an expert witness in a real case. During the class, participants will spend time with attorneys giving depositions, preparing for testimony, as well as spending the day in a real courtroom environment and taking the stand for direct and cross-examination.
