

FTC, CFTC Sue Ex-CEO Of Bankrupt Crypto Lender Voyager

Thursday, October 12, 2023

Sarah Krissoff, a member of the firm's White Collar Defense & Investigations group, spoke with Law360 about the FTC and CFTC lawsuit against the former CEO of bankrupt crypto lender Voyager, alleging that the former executive failed to register the crypto lender as a commodity pool and falsely told investors that the platform was a "safe haven" to park their funds and generate high returns. Sarah noted that the civil actions from the FTC and CFTC are "nothing more than an after-the-fact effort to look tough on crypto."

To read more, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- White Collar Defense & Investigations