Wednesday, January 26, 2022

PHILADELPHIA, January 26, 2022 — Cozen O'Connor is pleased to announce that the firm has earned the 2022 Top Workplaces USA award. The research-backed employee engagement survey consists of 24 base statements that capture anonymous responses in four culture imperatives including where the company is headed; whether employees feel appreciated and work is meaningful; whether managers are helpful and encourage employee development; and how well the company is innovative and executes as a whole. The survey also measures employee engagement and leadership.

Organizations are evaluated against the industry's most robust benchmark, based on 14 years of research and data from 70,000 organizations and 23 million employee surveys. Companies with the highest overall average scores qualify as top workplaces.
