WXN honors Lynnette Espy Williams with CEDI Awards

Friday, April 26, 2024

TORONTO, April 26, 2024 — WXN (Women's Executive Network) unveiled the names of 15 groundbreaking impact-makers who champion equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) as recipients of the 2024 Canadian Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (CEDI) Awards, including Cozen O'Connor's Chief Diversity Officer Lynnette Espy-Williams. Lynne was honored with an EDI Leader Award, recognizing bold role models among EDI leaders, practitioners, and allies.

"The inspiring recipients of WXN's iconic CEDI Awards stand as a testament to the remarkable strides made by leaders dedicated to advancing equity, diversity, and inclusion not only within their organizations but across North America and within the field itself. We honour and celebrate those whose dedication and bold vision pave the way for a more inclusive future for all women. Together, we take tangible action that creates lasting impact," said Sherri Stevens, Owner and CEO of WXN.

All winners will be recognized for their accomplishments on May 22, 2024, at the fourth annual Canadian Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Summit and Awards program at the Metro Toronto Convention Centre.

ABOUT WXN

WXN (Women's Executive Network) is an organization shaping the future of leadership across North America by bringing together thousands of women, allies, and corporate members in a rich and diverse ecosystem of professional development, networking, thought leadership, belonging, and celebration that propels professional women to rise and lead. Owner and CEO, Sherri Stevens, and WXN's Global Alliance of Inclusive Leadership (GAIL), host events for women in business, create professional development programming, and champion thought leadership for professional women. This includes the Canada's Most Powerful Women: Top 100™ Awards, the Canadian Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Summit and Awards, the Bold Convos summit series, and programs such as Master Coach Xcelerator and the Leadership Learning Series.