

What happens when real estate Zoom meetings go awry?

Thursday, May 21, 2020

Jason Domark was featured in the South Florida Real Estate News discussing how he has been conducting roughly a dozen Zoom depositions for an ongoing construction arbitration proceeding, while being at home with three young children.

To read the full article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Commercial Litigation