

Self-Driving Car Crashes Will Lead To Liability Conflicts

Friday, April 15, 2022

John R. Ewell was quoted in the expert analysis feature, “Self-Driving Car Crashes Will Lead To Liability Conflicts” on Law360. The article covers the ongoing debate over whether insurance for the driver or the vehicle’s manufacturer will be ultimately liable for claims resulting from bodily injuries and property damage.

John Ewell and Joanna Roberto of Gerber Ciano Kelly Brady LLP told Law360 in a joint statement that accidents caused by a product defect “will ultimately rest with the manufacturer.”
