Speakers

Neil Quartaro will be a panelist on a webinar presented by the New York State Bar Association, International Law Section. This webinar will be a roundtable discussion on how Latin-American lawyers who studied in the United States and passed the New York bar exam become dual qualified in their home jurisdictions and in the state of New York. Experienced New York lawyers will also be participating in this program to explain what New York firms, seeking dual qualified Latin-American lawyers, expect. BARBRI will provide its unique insight referring to bar exam preparations and what requirements prospective candidates should consider. This program should be of particular interest to Latin-American lawyers interested in pursuing an LL.M. in the United States and sitting for the New York bar exam. Topics will include client services, cross-border transactions, reconciling two bodies of law, technology, and diversity in multi-jurisdictional practices.
