Location

Webinar

Date & Time

Start Date: 10/29/2024

Start Time: 12:30 p.m. ET

End Time: 1:30 p.m. ET

In a time of unprecedented volatility and rapid change, understanding the current state of the capital markets is more crucial than ever. The U.S. capital markets are experiencing significant shifts, driven by economic uncertainties, regulatory changes, and evolving investor sentiment.

Chris Bellini will moderate a panel discussion that will explore insights into the current landscape and future outlook of the capital markets. Chris will be joined by Jonathan Dever, Managing Director and Head of Investment Banking, and Michael Passaro, Managing Director and Head of Equity Capital Markets from BTIG, LLC.

Topics include:

- 2024 report on the state of affairs for the U.S. capital markets
- Factors that will affect the capital markets in Q4 and 2025, including:
 - Interest rates
 - The 2024 presidential election
 - The changing dynamics of inflation
 - Economic growth
- The changing landscape for small and mid-cap public companies, as well as the investment banks that cover them

CLE is approved in CA, NY, PA, TX, IL, and NV.

Other jurisdictions will be applied for upon request if needed.
