

Alexander Cohen Named to Securities Docket 2025 Advisory Board

Friday, February 21, 2025

NEW YORK, February 21, 2025 — Alexander Cohen, a member of the firm's Securities Litigation and SEC Enforcement practice, has been named to the 2025 Securities Docket Advisory Board. Securities Docket hosts preeminent securities enforcement conferences throughout the United States. These conferences bring together hundreds of current and former senior SEC and DOJ officials and leading securities enforcement and white-collar attorneys. As a member of the advisory board, Alex will provide guidance and panel ideas for Securities Enforcement Forum events, as well as its podcast and newsletter.

Alex concentrates his practice on representing individual and corporate clients amidst government and internal investigations, as well as advising clients on compliance issues relating to the federal securities laws and SRO rules. In addition to regularly representing clients before the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), Alex brings substantial experience handling complex securities and commercial litigation matters. He has provided legal representation for large private corporations, publicly traded companies, financial institutions, and affiliated individuals in complex civil litigation proceedings across state courts, federal district courts, and various arbitral forums involving claims such as breach of contract and fiduciary duties, misappropriation, and fraud.
