

How Young Attorneys Are Shaking up Law Firm Culture

Thursday, March 16, 2023

Josephine Bahn was quoted in an American Bar Association Journal article discussing young lawyers' increased need for work-life balance, fair pay, and flexible working arrangements. "How we learn is different, and what's going to keep us somewhere for a longer time is different," said Jo. "I turned down opportunities that would have paid me significantly more because the culture at my current firm is on the whole person and the long-term development of people."

To read the full article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Commercial Litigation
- Construction Law